Edinburgh, Fife and the Tay Cities

Interim Timetable A

Draft Timetable for Consultation

Service Summary

ScotRail is proposing a new timetable for Fife and the Tay Cities, and is consulting on its proposed Planned Timetable, as well as an interim timetable.

There are two interim timetable options for consideration which would operate following the reopening of the Levenmouth Rail Link in late spring / early summer 2024, as well as an enhanced proposal for services from 2025. This is Interim Timetable A, and includes the following services:

- Two local trains per hour from Edinburgh to Leven via Dunfermline. These are extensions of the existing Edinburgh to Cowdenbeath and Glenrothes services that we operate.
- One local train per hour from Edinburgh to Perth via Kirkcaldy (as operates at present).
- One local per hour from Edinburgh to Dundee via Kirkcaldy (as operates at present).
- Two intercity trains every three hours between Edinburgh and Aberdeen (as operates at present).
- Additional peak local services between Edinburgh and Fife (as operates at present).

The evening timetable will continue to provide one train per hour between Edinburgh and local stations via Cowdenbeath, and one train per hour between Edinburgh and local stations via Kirkcaldy.

This timetable will provide Leven and Cameron Bridge with two trains per hour to Edinburgh, Cowdenbeath, and Dunfermline, but will not provide direct services to Kirkcaldy.

Feedback on this timetable can be submitted at <https://www.scotrail.co.uk/fife-and-tay-cities-timetable-consultation> until Monday, 23 October 2023.
